Reviews

Here is the finest ebook i have got read until now. It really is simplistic but excitement within the 50 percent in the book. Once you begin to read the book, it is extremely difficult to leave it before concluding.

Brand New Book  Print on Demand .Excerpt from The Link, Vol. 5 September - forerunner of crisp fall days and football games. Now begins the grinding practice which provides the thrill-packed game later on. Perhaps the most colorful game of the year is that played between the United States Military and Naval Academies. The player on this month s cover is Leon C. Bramlett, six feet one and weighing 195 lbs., from Clarksdale, Mississippi. Bramlett captained the Naval Academy s football team in 1946. No one who saw the Army-Navy game or heard it broadcast last fall will ever forget that great team or the splendid young man who was its captain. A few days after the game the following letter came to the Superintendent of the Naval Academy. It is a fine tribute to the indomitable spirit of the Navy. Dear Sir: Shortly after the surrender of Japan, several units of the United States Pacific Fleet put in at Colombo, Ceylon, on their way home. Many of the officers of these fleet units graduated from the Naval Academy the same year I graduated from West Point. These naval officers were full of buoyancy and excitement, still holding the keen edge of battle-fitness to which they had been honed during the war. I asked the group how it had been, out there in the naval battles of the Pacific. One of them flicked a glance at the great gray ships floating impressively in the harbor. When he looked at those vessels the pride shone in his face like a light. He said: We just beath the hell out of them, that s all. Later, when I witnessed the disintegration of our Army and...
