It is devoted to the historical, statistical and comparative study of politics, economics and public law. Its list of contributors includes university and college teachers, politicians, lawyers, journalists and business men in all parts of the United States and European professors and publicists. It follows the most important movements of foreign politics but gives chief attention to questions of present interest in the United States. On such questions its attitude is nonpartisan. Every article is signed; and every article, including those of the editors, expresses simply the personal view of the writer. Each issue contains careful book reviews by specialists, and in March, June and December large numbers of recent...
